Happiness is 4-H

Texas 4-Hers depart

By FRANK SWEET
Extension Agent

Our 4-H visitors from Texas left for their return trip home on last Saturday morning. Bailey County, Texas, is almost 1600 miles from Appomattox. Next summer a group of Appomattox 4-H members will have the opportunity to travel to Texas as we complete the two-year 4-H Interstate Exchange Program.

Darrell Conner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Conner, and Curtis Moore, son of Mrs. Eva Moore, have been nominated to attend the 1983 State 4-H Electric Congress in Richmond from August 15-17. State 4-H Electric Congress is held each year to provide young people with the opportunity to become more knowledgeable about electric energy and its uses. 4-H'ers who have done outstanding work in electric projects are also recognized during the three-day event. The 4-H Electric Congress is sponsored by the Electric Power Suppliers of Virignia.

* * *

Each year 4-H members are recognized at Holiday Lake 4-H Camp for their outstanding work in each class. The following people were recognized at this year's camp: Beginning Swimming: Joseph Webb; Advanced Swimming: Byron Patterson; Canoeing: Katrina Archer and Brent Harrison; Archery: Karen Gilliam and Mike Whitner; Horsemanship: Jennifer Notestein; Rifle Safety: Matt Wilkerson and Steven Marshall; Water Ecology: Byron Patterson, Lee Scruggs, and Gina Cestaro; Fishing: Vincent Pannell and Chris Barr; Arts and Crafts: Beverly Carter, Katrina Archer and Celeste Bartelt; First Aid: Bennie Ray King, Shana Harvey, Jonathan Edwards, Berri Anderson; Outdoor Cookery: Robin Fuller, Jennifer White and Mary Helen McLaughlin; Volleyball: David McDonald and Megan O'Donnell; Dramatics: Kristen McDonald and Robin Fuller; Tennis: Tracy Guthrie, Katina McCoy, Alphonsa Miller and Dusty Wilhoit. Each of the above 4-H'ers were recognized during a special awards ceremony at camp.

* * *

Five County Fair Catalogs should be available shortly. A supply of the catalogs will be distributed to each of the banking institutions in Appomattox and one will be sent to each 4-H family. Young people and adults alike will have the opportunity to exhibit articles in the Fair. Now is a good time to begin planning for your Fair exhibits for this year.

AARP meets in Pamplin

The meeting of the American Association of Retired Persons held July 19 at the Pamplin Charge United Methodist Church turned out to be a most interesting one.

After having a delightful luncheon and an informative meeting they presented a young man from the local area, Glenn McClenny.

Mr. McClenny is the oldest son of Robert and Laura McClenny of Pamplin. He showed slides of his trip to Chicago and did the narration himself.

Glenn is a recent graduate of Appomattox High School and is a credit to our community. He will attend Virginia Tech this fall.

The A.A.R.P. members wish him the most success in his endeavor.

Curtis Vaughn

Vaughn selected

Can you swim, shoot a rifle, paddle a canoe, or ride a horse? These are just a few things the 4-H campers from Amelia and Nottoway Counties learned during the week of July 11-15, 1983 at Holiday Lake 4-H Ed. Center.

Curtis Vaughn, a 4-H'er from Nottoway County, was awarded a half scholarship to camp next year for being selected "Camper of the Week". Curtis is 8 years old and this was his first year at 4-H Camp. Curtis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Vaughn.

Three junior leaders were selected as "Junior Leaders of the Week." They are: Dwight Holmes, Amanda King, and Harry Moore. All of these listed were from Nottoway County. It was Amanda's and Harry's first time as a junior leader and Dwight's second time as a junior leader. These 4-Her's did an outstanding job earing for the campers and being responsible leaders.

Vonnegut to speak at H-SC

American novelist and critic, Kurt Vonnegut, Jr. will speak at Hampden-Sydney College on September 27; the title of his lecture is "How to Get a Job Like Mine."

This lecture, sponsored by the College's Lectures and Programs Commitee, will be one of only four public appearances that Vonnegut will make in the nation this year.

The speech will be delivered in the Fleet Gymnasium at Hampden-Sydney and will begin at 8:00 p.m. An admission fee will be charged.

Vonnegut's works include Slaughterhouselive, Breakfast of Champions, and Deadeye Dick, his most recent novel. His novel Slaughterhouse-Five was also released as a major motion picture.

THE CAMPBELL AND CHEATHAM families recently took over the Village Market store in Vera. Norman and Shirley Campbell and Marshall Wayde and Linda Cheatham will be running the business with their families. They have made numerous physical changes in the store, and will now offer Shell gasoline at discount prices. Shown above ready to receive customers are (from left) Shirley Campbell, her daughter Lisa, Marsha Cheatham and her mother, Linda. (Photo By Bill Sherrod)

Check on inspection

The Virginia State Police reminded motor vehicle owners this week that all vehicles must now display either a red or black annual safety inspection sticker on their windshield. Any other color sticker is no longer valid.

State Police also emphasize that the months of license plate and safety inspection expiration do not necessarily coincide. Vehicle owners should renew their registration according to the month indicated on their license plate decal, but they should have their vehicle safety inspection according to the month indicated on their windshield safety inspection sticker.

Travel increases on state highways in May

Travel on Virginia's major highways in May registered its largest monthly increase in four years, the Virginia Department of Highways and Transportation said this week.

It was up 3.9 per cent over May a year ago.

Travel by all passenger vehicles rose 3.5 per cent, with that by passenger vehicles registered out-of state showing an increase of 4.4 per cent and Virginia-registered passenger vehicle traffic increasing by 3.3 per cent. Bus and truck travel showed an increase of 5.3 per cent.

The travel statistics were compiled from counts taken at 224 locations in the state's interstate arterial, and primary highways, according to A. L. Thomas, Jr., the department's traffic and safety engineer.

To local welfare board

Coleman, Martin Richardson re-elected

Horace W. Coleman, Chairman of the Appomattox Board of Social Services has been re-elected to serve as Board Chairman for the next four years.

Coleman, Chairman of the Board for the past two years also serves as Chairman of the Appomattox County Board of Supervisors, Vice-Chairman of the Appomattox County Planning Commission, Member of Appomattox County Development Corporation, Member of Appomattox County Chamber of Commerce, Chairman of Central Virginia Planning Commission, Member of Central Virginia Community Services Board, Member of Human Resources Policy Committee of the Planning Association of Regional Counties.

Coleman with an overview of the various human resource agencies in the area has the unique understanding of how interlocking human resources can supplement each other in a more efficient and more cost effective manner.

Louise Lewis Martin, re-elected as Vice-Chairman of the Board, a native of Appomattox and a retired teacher is the wife of E. Carter Martin. Mrs. Martin was appointed to the Board July 1981 and she succeeds herself as Vice-Chairman.

Martin, for seventeen years the Coach of Girls Sports for the Appomattox County School System was honored as Seminole District Coach of the Year, State Coach of the Year, District III Coach of the Year and was one of eight persons nominated for National Coach of the Year.

An active participant in the state, local and National Retired Teacher's Association, United Methodist Women, Memorial Methodist Choir and the Woman's Committee of the Appomattox Farm Bureau. Louise Martin is a community leader whose interest in the welfare of her neighbor is a primary purpose in her life.

Herbert Richardson, newly appointed member of the Board representing Clover Hill District fills the unexpired term of Tommy Drinkard.

The three active and civic minded members of the Appomattox County Board of Social Services have close contact with people in the county and are in the position to closely access and work toward the fulfillment of human resource needs in the county.

Ceramics show set Sept. 10

Ceramics for competition and for sale will be featured at Lynchburg's First Hobby Ceramic Show on September 10 from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. in The Plaza.

Ceramists from throughout the state and adjoining areas are invited to participate. The competition will include all ceramic techniques and special divisions for professionals, hobbyists, children, senior citizens and handicapped. Awards will be presented for best display and for winners in each category.

Merchandise for sale will include greenware, bisque, finished pieces, porcelain, handbuilt pottery, accessories and supplies.

The show is sponsored by Lynchburg's Senior Citizen Program, a program of the city's Recreation & Parks Division. The purpose of the show is to recognize the talent among area ceramists, to promote the area ceramic industry by providing an overall representation of what is being offered in materials and instruction, to encourage quality rather than quantity in the production of finished work and to maintain an image of responsibility and respectability among hobbyists, teachers, dealers and suppliers.

Door prizes and entertainment are scheduled to make the day a treat for browsers and buyers as well as for competitors.

For more information, please contact Lynchburg's Recreation & Parks Division at (804) 847-1640.
